Backyard Science looks at everything a bit differently to help you unravel the mysteries of life, the universe and everything - all from your backyard! I'd defy anyone from the most hard-nosed SF aficionado on up not to enjoy reading it.

As relevant now as it was when written in the '50s. A narrator pondering his place within his homeworld and his own society and speculating on the lives, motives and drives of the giant, unknowable, half unseen aliens he encounters, all explained in enthralling terms to an audience as unfamiliar with whaling as most modern readers are with the surface of Europa. A journey into the world of Aboriginal art.

Remember those collars in '50s The Running Man which blew convicts' heads off? House Series 3 Dani is a 17 year old actress who is forever being left in charge of her annoying younger brother Max with his non-too bright friend Ben thrown in for bad measure and their even younger sibling "the baby from hell" while her parents go off to do An anthropologist and Episcopalian minister, Reverend Lasher, persuades Paul that life without meaningful work is boring and inhuman; Paul begins to fantasize about quitting his job and living off the grid.
